AN OLD CITIZEN DEAD.

Democrat-Argus: Louis Albert Patterson, an aged and highly respected citizen of this city, died Saturday forenoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ferd King, in this city, on East 11th street. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the residence by Rev. Foster, pastor of the Baptist church, after which interment was had at the Patterson graveyard. Mr. Patterson had been in poor health for the last ten years, dropsy developing a few months ago and being the immediate cause of his death. He leaves a son, T. H. Patterson, and a daughter, Mrs. Ferd King, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren to mourn his loss. His wife preceded him to the grave 26 years ago. Mr. Patterson was 80 years, three months and 24 days old at the time of his death, and had lived in this county for 75 years, having moved here with his parents in 1847, at the age of five years. He had witnessed the development of this country from a howling wilderness of forests, lakes and swamps into the most beautiful and productive garden spot of the western hemisphere. In his young manhood this was a sportsman's paradise, with the canebrakes teeming with bear, deer, turkey and fur-bearing animals, while the lakes contained myriads of fish, and at certain seasons wild ducks were in countless numbers. All is changed now; the forests have been removed, the lakes and swamps drained, and in their stead are broad acres, producing fabulous crops of corn, cotton, wheat and alfalfa. Instead of the wild game wandering in the forests we have vast herds of fine cattle feeding on the pastureland. Mr. Patterson witnessed the working of this mighty change in the land he loved so well, and his heart was made glad, but he could not always stay to enjoy these improved conditions and the companionship of his family and friends. Last Saturday morning he joined the ranks of the innumerable caravan that is constantly marching in migration to a more beautiful country than earthly eyes have ever seen, to a populous land of joy and beauty beyond the stars, where the weary soul meets its God face to face and basks in the sunshine of His smile.

METHODIST CHURCH NOTES.

From the Official Board of the Hayti Methodist Church to the Citizens Greeting:

You would not want to live in some of the wild, remote places that you know of, would you? Is that not why you are living in Hayti? Do you not reason about like this: "I belong here. All my earthly possessions, or the greater part of them are here. There are good schools for my children to attend. There are good churches. My children have the privilege of attending Sunday school, and the teachers give them a great deal of time, and teach them lessons that will be of great value to them through all the meandering of their lives. We have a good, clean set of merchants to do business with. Hayti has a good, business-like, honest set of city officials, and as a result a clean and safe management of business matters. The moral surroundings of Hayti are as good as most towns, and better than many."

"Civic pride has a good, strong hold on the people of Hayti. They are on the up-grade. The Commercial club is very active, assuring healthy growth and team work. That means much to any worth while community. We have the leading fraternal societies—the Masonic, the Eastern Star, Odd Fellows, W. O. W., M. W. A., and others, whose teachings are strongly religious."

Now, saying all of that, what would Hayti do without these? Were it not for the churches and the influence of church people, those who strive for the upbuilding of the human race, the State and the Nation, there would be no good school system for your children, there would be numerous immoral people, corrupt officials, hence despair and unhappiness in the community. There would be no clean city government, no interest in civic improvement, and conditions of citizenship in such a community would be bad. The strong influence by the secret organizations of the elevation and betterment of mankind would not be here. The influence of the church-loving people is more responsible than anything else for Hayti being the good town it is to live in and rear your family. It is, therefore, the duty of all people to help support the churches. This is just as much a duty of non-members as it is members, for they derive benefit from the community good. If you are so unfortunate as to be unable to pay money, you can attend church and help with your influence. The giving to the church should never be considered an act of charity. It is not. It is a duty. Boost. Do all you can. You will get a lot of good out of it. If you put nothing in, you will get little or nothing out. The world is very fond of giving us back what we put into it. In other words, we must sow to reap, and we generally reap what we sow.

We believe there are a great many people who would like to help the churches if they knew just who to pay. We believe for this reason our collection system has been wrong. In the future our records are going to be open for inspection at all times, and will show just who pays and how much. The non-member of the church is going to have credit, the same as members.

Miss Mamie Hearn is the official collector and will collect once a month. Tell her just how much you can pay and when to call for it. She will call promptly at the time you designate. You should be ready and not put her to extra trouble.

We want this entire community to become interested in church work. We want you to come to our services and hear Bro. Culbertson. He is a strong man in the work. He is doing good. The Hayti Methodist church is a strong church, but should be stronger, and would be if all of us would do our duty.

Let us from this date forward resolve to do our duty.

PEMISCOT FARM*BUREAU NEWS

Cotton Growers Sign Co-Operative Contract.

Eleven thousand three hundred seventy-five Alabama cotton growers, representing an annual production of 169,000 bales, signed the Farm Bureau cotton marketing contract during the recent sign-up campaign, according to a complete tabulation of the results announced by officials of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation.

Based on the 1921 production, 29 per cent of Alabama's crop is under contract for co-operative marketing, placing Alabama ahead of all other southern States in this respect. Limestone county is at the top, with 12,129 bales signed by 803 growers. Madison is second, with 9,658 bales signed by 329 growers. The balance in many other counties runs far into the thousands.

Immediately after the close of the campaign the board of directors was elected and prepared for action by electing John S. Kernachan of Florence, president. Mr. Kernachan represents the third cotton marketing district of the State and was active chairman of the Cotton Organization Committee.
